CUSTOMER SUCCESS STORY

Since 1926, Carolina CAT has been serving construction, road-building, utility, and mining equipment needs. In the past, they relied on an assortment of disjointed vendors to complete their HR, benefits, and payroll processes. In 2008, Carolina CAT made the decision to let go of outdated practices and unify their HCM processes with a single comprehensive solution.

Leveraging a more robust HCM solution granted managers 24-7 access to key data about their own teams, and with more than 50 managers in 12 locations, the benefits were felt immediately. Supervisors were now able to quickly access vital information about their teams, such as staffing reports, compensation breakdowns, and performance review histories. Generating reports for executives or external parties has been faster and far more efficient than ever before. Business intelligence data became available across all areas of HR, payroll, and benefits, allowing teams to generate reports almost instantly to review labor costs, current headcounts, or 401(k) contributions.
